

Figure 1. The R. Carl Mumpower property, as outlined and described by the Madison County Tax Dept. June 2017. The tract lies just west of Chandler Cove Road, just off of Revere Road, about 7 miles north of Marshall. The barn of interest is located at the extreme eastern edge of the property, just off of Chandler Cove Road. The inset map to the upper left shows the location of the property within Madison County.

Figure 3. Google Earth image, with topographic overlay, also showing the 1995 surveyed plat completed for R. Carl Mumpower. The Chandler/Ramsey Barn is shown in red near the eastern edge of the tract. The description included in the 1931 deed (Ervin Ramsey to the Catholic Church) could generally be followed using the surveyed boundaries shown, though none of the older deeds included details that would allow them to be transferred onto modern maps.

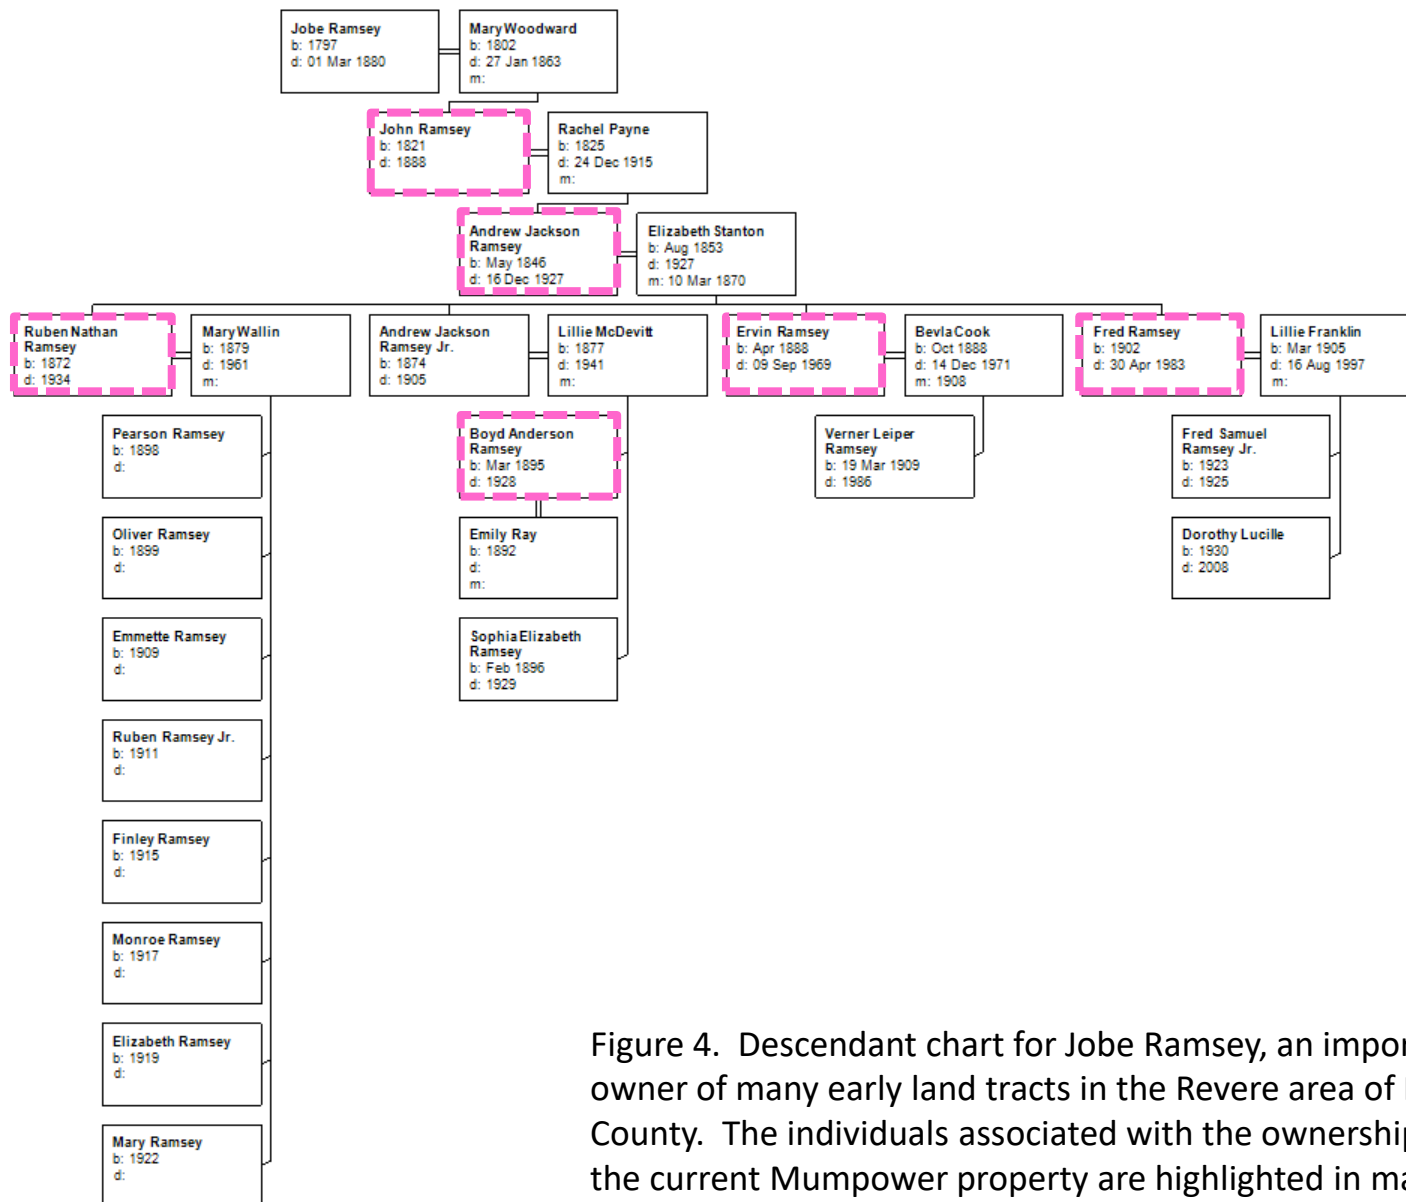

Figure 4. Descendant chart for Jobe Ramsey, an important land owner of many early land tracts in the Revere area of Madison County. The individuals associated with the ownership history of the current Mumpower property are highlighted in magenta.
